

The Hummingbird has a long slender bill adapted for reaching deep into tubular flowers. It has a bright red throat and green body with white in it.

Habitat: The Hummingbird lives near woods and gardens.

Diet: Hummingbirds eat nectar and insects.

By:

Tasha

The Atlantic Puffin is a clown like seabird with a little wide bill. The Puffin is black and white with a colorful blue, yellow, and red bill. It has orange webbed feet and little claws on the tips.

Habitat: The Atlantic Puffin lives off the Atlantic Coast and spends most of its life on the open ocean. It comes to shore near sea cliffs to raise young.

Diet: The Puffin eats fish.

By: Aifh

The Downy Woodpecker is a small white, black and red bird that travels up and down trees searching for insects. It uses its bill for pecking at trees to get the insects inside.

Habitat: The Downy Woodpecker lives in forests and suburbs.

Diet: It eats seeds and insects.

By:

D a k o t a

The Great Horned Owl is a large powerful bird. It has fluffy ear tufts and large yellow eyes. It has dark brown feathers and streaked under parts. The throat is white.

Habitat: The Great Horned Owl lives in woods, parks, and suburbs.

Diet: It eats mice, skunks, squirrels, chipmunks, moles, and other small rodents.

By: DANNY

The Baltimore Oriole is a beautiful songbird.

The male is black with bright orange and his tail and wings have some white feathers. The female is less colorful.

Habitat: Orioles live near forest edges and around shade trees.

Diet: They eat seeds, nectar, oranges, and insects.

By: VEEVA

The Mourning Dove can be found across the United States and in southern Canada. It is darker brown on the wings and lighter on the breast. It makes a soft cooah-coo-coo-coo sound.

Habitat: The Mourning Dove lives near farms, towns, open woods, and grasslands.

Diet: It eats seeds, grains, and small nuts.

By: Cambrya

