Once upon a time there was a whale that sprayed gray water. The whale was very, very tired. He was the whale that would never wake up.

Story Setting

The whale lived in the ocean. The ocean water was blue and deep. There were blue bubbles on the top of the water. The green coral was growing in the water. There were some little spots on the coral.

4 One day, the whale was having a very bad day because she was coughing a lot and sneezing a lot, too. When she sneezed she sprayed water out of her blowhole. She felt very icky.

She tried drinking water but that did not work.

She still felt terrible. The whale tried taking medicine. It just made the whale feel really tired.

She tried a warm bowl of fish soup. The whale still didn't feel better.

She decided to take a long nap in the seaweed.

She slept for a whole day! When she woke up she felt much better and she swam to the top of the sea. She did a flip in the air! Then the whale swam around in happy circles.
