

Red-winged Blackbird

My favorite thing to eat is crickets, insects, and leftover grains.

My nest is cup shaped and you find it in the grass by the water. I call for a mate. I guard my nest to keep other birds away. It holds 3-5 white eggs with black spots.

I have perching feet. I have a sharp, gray beak and a black tail. I have mostly black feathers. I have yellow and red shoulder patches on my black wings. The female is totally different. She is brown camouflage with white stripes on her breast. Who am I?

California Gull

I have a hook for a beak. My favorite food is garbage, fish, french fries, water bugs, and Mormon crickets. I like to crack muscles on the rocks by dropping them from the sky. My favorite spot to eat is by the ocean.

My nest is made out of sticks near the shore. I lay 1-4 eggs that are white with dark spots. Both my parents incubate the eggs. They take 23-27 days to incubate.

My favorite game to play is to drop a stick from the sky and dive to catch it. That's how I practice hunting.

I have white feathers on my breast and a black tail. I have a golden beak with a red spot. I am a swimming bird. I have yellow, webbed feet. Who am I?

Wild Turkey

I roost in the trees at night. My nest is made out of grass, feathers, and sticks. My nest is on the ground next to swampy areas or in fields.

My favorite food is nuts, insects, blackberries, snails, and huckleberries.

I lay white eggs with gray spots the size of a chicken egg. I lay 4-17 eggs in a clutch.

I have colorful feathers that attract hens. They are black, white, gray, and brown. I have scratching feet and a bald head. I have a pecking beak. Who am I?

Great-horned Owl

My favorite food is bunnies, mice, small birds, scorpions, and skunks.

My nest is made by a cave or I steal other bird's nests. I like to nest in the swamps, forests, or the dessert.

I lay 1-4 yellow to white eggs. I have 1 brood per year.

I fly silently during the night. I have big yellow eyes so I can see at night. I have a hooked beak. I have flight feathers. I have grabbing feet. I have feathers on my head that look like horns. I can turn my head upside down and almost all the way around. Who am I?
